

An Ulting Man is the new High Sheriff of Essex

We are delighted to learn that Bryan Burrough, from Ulting, is the new High Sheriff for Essex. Bryan, who moved to Essex over 20 years ago, will become the 838th person to take on this ancient title. The Office of High Sheriff is an independent, non-political Royal appointment for a single year. The origins of the Office date back to Saxon times, when the ‘Shire Reeve’ was responsible to the king for the maintenance of law and order within the shire or county, and for the collection and return of taxes due to the Crown. High Sheriffs receive no remuneration and no part of the expense of a High Sheriff’s year falls on the public purse.

There is a High Sheriff in every county in England and Wales, and their history and tradition goes back before the Norman Conquest. The Office is the oldest Royal appointment, although the modern day High Sheriff has a very different role and function to that of his ancient predecessors, but still plays an important role in our 21st Century society.

The office was a powerful position in earlier times, and it was only in 1908 under king Edward VII that the Lord Lieutenant became more senior than the High Sheriff. Since then the position of High Sheriff has become more ceremonial, with many of its previous responsibilities transferred to High Court judges, magistrates, coroners, local authorities and the police.

Bryan will be accompanied in his duties by his wife Philippa, an avid gardener who runs Ulting Wick, the beautiful garden featured in the Summer 2013 issue of this newsletter. Bryan said on being appointed: “It is a unique opportunity and is almost a full-time job. But I feel that the role is even more relevant in this day and age. Austerity has had a wide-reaching effect on the judicial system and many issues are now being dealt with by the voluntary sector. The High Sheriff can give these voluntary organisations recognition and encourage them to interact.”

Bryan is particularly keen to give prominence to organisations working with young men in Essex to try to steer them away from destroying their future prospects and damaging others with destructive behaviour. “Young men like this can be on a slippery slope which leads to offending and time in custody. I believe there should be far more focus on why people turn to crime and how we can prevent them from doing so. There are many issues involved, including literacy and having positive male role models...The High Sheriff can play an important part in thanking the unthanked.”

The Parish Council offers him our heartiest congratulations on this appointment, and wish him every success in his new role.

Editor's Note

Welcome to issue 21 of our newsletter. Having gone from 'The beast from the East' to the hottest weekend of the year so far and then to the wettest for a while it has been challenging for a lot of people. Indeed, this curious change of weather is reflected in some of the articles here.

Parish Council Meetings

Do come along to Parish Council meetings – we're here to serve you after all, and you can learn all that is going on (or not going on!) in your village. The next meetings (all on a Tuesday) will be held on: 19th June, 17th July, 21st August, 18th September and 16th October. Later dates will be given in the next newsletter.

As always, tea and coffee will be served from 7.10 onwards so that if you have any questions or queries before the meeting these can be addressed in a friendly and private manner before the official business of the meeting begins. It has been good to see more people coming along, so do join them and find out what's going on and, more importantly, have your say!

The Cowshed Club

The wonderful Cowshed Club recommenced on 22nd February with a Social Get Together and Enrolment for the coming year. This was followed by a Pub Meal on 22nd March, the spring craft on 26th April and a tour of Beeleigh Abbey on 24th May

(which was excellent). If you would like to become a member (ladies only I'm afraid, although men are welcome on the outings where appropriate) then contact the organisers - Mary Ashby (cj@ashby.co.uk) or Jeanette Gribble (maeldunejoinery@outlook.com) to come and meet other ladies from Langford and Ulting and enjoy some wonderful social events.

Art Show 2018

The Art Show was held in Langford & Ulting Village Hall on Saturday 24th and Sunday 25th March. Lots of people said it was the best show yet, and some 500 people came through the doors. The organisers said they had not hung quite so many pictures before, and the quality of the pictures was better as well. Fifty framed pictures and 125 unframed were sold.

This is a wonderful chance to see local artists and their work and to support them through your purchases. Many congratulations to Caroline Spong and her team for another very successful exhibition.

'Heavenly Supplies' Village Shop

You will be delighted (or completely indifferent) to know that our appeal to the Valuation Office has been successful, and we will no longer be chased to pay rates. This is a wonderful achievement that neither our local MP nor the Bishop of Chelmsford were able to do on our behalf, so we are really grateful to everyone who has been so supportive over this very stressful period. Don't forget that your local shop houses most of the things that you would like, including fresh bread, milk, local eggs, honey and vegetables as well as the usual tins, biscuits and other exciting things (tonic water, soda etc.) The shop also stocks seasonal goods and will get in things that you would like, so come and use it – this is, as we have constantly told the rates office, a non-profit making venture by St. Giles' Church for the benefit of villagers.

And the Parish Bouquet goes to...

This time our Parish Council Chairman, Vicky Anfilogoff, has made the nomination: "I think it should go to my good neighbours Philip and Lester Magness; Lester for his help and concern, checking that I was OK and not in need of anything during the time we were so nearly snowed in, and for being concerned about my currently unused car and checking it over for me; Philip for his kindness in offering to mow my paddock to get it back to some kind of order – not an easy task. Being in a wheelchair as I am, it is difficult to get about, so it was really wonderful to know that I had such good neighbours to look out for me."

It is a delight, therefore, to present two bouquets this time in recognition of the kindness of neighbours when the unexpected snowfalls came (a very disagreeable surprise to me who was travelling back from India!)

Bluebell Walk 2018

Another vote of thanks must be given to Wally and Paula Cant, who once again opened up their beautiful bluebell woods on Sunday 29th April for the benefit of villagers and friends. Luckily the rain kept off, and although it was cold, the bluebells were at their radiant best, and never fail to thrill and captivate. Thank you so much for your hospitality.

Register of Local Heritage Assets

Tim Howson, the Conservation Officer at Maldon District Council, is compiling this, and has asked me, as Local History Recorder, to assist him. A criterion has been agreed and he is gradually drafting entries for each parish. This is in its early stages, so any help you can give in suggesting suitable sites that are not already listed would be greatly appreciated. If you would like to know what is already in the draft, please contact me (irenea@lepra.org.uk) and I can let you have a copy. These lists would exclude those which are already statutorily listed. There is an interactive map on MDC's website which shows the location of listed buildings:

https://www.maldon.gov.uk/info/20049/heritage\_and\_conservation/9165/conservation/2 which you may find helpful. Let's ensure that our wonderful local heritage is not lost, so your suggestions are very important.

New Look to the Bridge in Langford

At long last the damage done to the bridge over the 'Langford Stream' has now been repaired. New concrete supports and caps have been installed and the ghastly orange barrier has finally been removed. The works caused quite a lot of upheaval through the village as they coincided with works being undertaken in Holloway Road in Heybridge, so a series of traffic lights caused quite a few holdups. But it has all been worth it.

As can be seen, there was a lot of cosmetic work as well, and it is only a shame that the whole structure couldn't have been cleaned up while they had the scaffolding there, but...at least it's fixed at last.

Community Diary

Sunday 29th July – All Saints Church, Ulting, 11 a.m. – Churches Together, where all churches can come together for an Ecumenical Service. Bring a picnic for lunch beside the river after the service.

Wednesday 5th September - St. Andrew's Church, Heybridge, 7.30 p.m. The induction of Rev. Asa Humphreys as Priest in Charge of Heybridge with Langford.

Sunday 9th September – All Saints Church, Ulting – 11 a.m. – Outdoor Pet Service. Guest speaker will be a local vet. All pets – large or small – will be made very welcome.

There are too many events at the Museum of Power to include them, but do go onto their website www.museumofpower.org.uk to see all the wonderful events that are coming up in the year. Do you have any items for the Community Diary? If so, do let me know in good time and I will include them in the next issue which will come out in October 2018.

Business in Focus: “A Tail of 4 Paws”

Recently we seem to have heard nothing but bad news from the business world, so it is wonderful to be able to report on a new venture in Langford.

Behind this little gate, Candy Smith has set up a Dog Grooming Boutique called ‘A Tail of 4

Paws’. This is equipped with top of the range equipment, creating a safe, clean and very welcoming environment for dogs of every size and shape. All grooms include a deep and thorough scrub in the bath using shampoo especially suited to your dog’s coat and skin type; after this every dog is hand dried, so no drying cabinets are used. The bath has steps to help large or older dogs get into it without any difficulties, and the table lowers right to the ground so they can step on and off it easily.

The parlour has been built with a spacious grooming area, with large windows to let in natural light to make it a calm and relaxing atmosphere.

Candy is a qualified groomer who has been grooming professionally since 2008. She says: “I welcome all breeds of dogs, from the teeny tiny Chihuahuas, to the gentle giants. Whether hairless, or extra hairy, they all receive a bespoke grooming treatment and are looked after with the upmost care as if they are my own. I am also qualified in canine massage and treatments can be tailored to your dog’s needs, and incorporated into your grooming session, or a separate appointment can be made. All dogs are groomed to breed standards or to your personal individual requirements.”

The boutique offers a wonderful range of services for your dog including full grooms, express washes (perfect for those very muddy days we’ve been having recently), puppy pampers (to introduce puppies to the sound and smells of the parlour) and many other bespoke treatments for your much-loved pet.

My own Labrador Cross went through Candy’s gentle hands recently, and I thought I had the wrong dog returned as she came back with a beautiful shiny coat, and she smelled wonderful as every groom is concluded with a spritz of finishing spray, and your pampered pooch will also come away with a bow. Candy insists that you have to have a bow!

But it’s not only the outward appearance of your pet that matters; health checks are also an important part of the unique service this little boutique offers, and owners can be reassured that their four legged friend’s eyes, teeth, skin and coat will be assessed at each and every visit so that any anomalies can be picked up at an early stage. For instance, if you become aware that your dog has started to chew at its back end, or is scooting along the floor these can be signs of impacted anal glands. The boutique can express these for you to clear the problem.

Canine massage is also available, which would suit a dog stiff from old age, or recovering after an operation, as it can decrease pain, soreness and stiffness, restore muscle tone, increase circulation, improve muscle function and increase flexibility and range of motion.

To find out more about this extraordinary little boutique, go to www.atailof4paws.co.uk or contact Candy on 07548866025 to make an appointment.

You won’t find any prices on the website as this will, of course depend on the size of dog and the type of service or treatments you require, but from my own personal experience of my very happy, sweet smelling Labrador, I can heartily recommend it.

[Candy with her mascots Twiglet and Crumpet]

The Museum reopened on 31st January and had a visit from the Essex Town & Parish Clerks group on 2nd February. Educational visits began the following week with a special needs group and Chelmsford College making the first of two visits in February. We also entertained two other special needs groups and hosted a ramblers walking group before the freezing weather arrived at the end of the month.

The first week of March ended up being very quiet because of the snow, but things have picked up since. Mandeville Primary School, Thundersley Primary School and Howbridge Primary School visited us over three weeks, with a combined total of over 180 children coming to the museum. We are also in the process of organising four educational visits with a Home Educated group, covering our four main themes over four months. We are delighted at how the Museum's learning programme for Key Stages 1-2 has developed and become known around Essex.

Away from schools, March has included 26 members of the Saffron Walden U3A group visiting us for a tour and lunch and we started our 2018 main programme with Science Sunday which, despite the cold weather, turned out to be a good event. Exhibition wise we are now putting together our new Earth & Space exhibition in the Generator Hall.

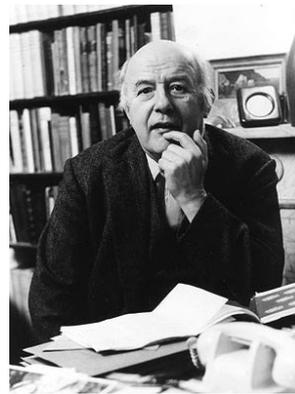

For 2018-19 the Museum is taking part in 'Snapping the Stiletto', which is a two-year project by Essex County Council, exploring how Essex women's lives have changed since 1918. The project has received a grant from the Esmée Fairbairn Collections Fund to work with 11 local museums to explore their collections and discover hidden inspirational stories. The aim of the project is to replace the outdated 'Essex Girls' stereotype with untold stories of strong Essex women. Look out for information on our social media platforms and for temporary exhibitions in the Museum over the year ahead.

You can view our 2018 Calendar now on the Museum of Power website and also print a text schedule to keep in your diary from our calendar page. www.museumofpower.org.uk/calendar.html

Leisure Events from the Past

Do you have any photos or stories about leisure events in the past in our parishes that you would like to share? In our next issue we will be featuring Ulting Villa Football Club, so if you have memories of any other sporting or social clubs in our parishes that you would like to share, please send them to me. I know we have very few nowadays, but in the past Langford and Ulting were parishes to be reckoned with when it came to sporting (and social) events.

Did you know...John Betjeman

When Langford Grove was a private girls' school, John Betjeman, the English poet, writer and broadcaster, gave a lecture there. In an article for The Spectator on 7th January, 2007, Andrew Geddes recounted the relationship between his mother Margie and the poet when he noted: "He invited her to lunch at the Café Royal as a thank-you for arranging a lecture with Mrs. Curtis at Langford Grove School. 'You saved me financially,' he told her, 'I was down and out.' Mrs. Curtis told her later that he had spent most of his time on the roof looking at the leads and endlessly going to the loo on account of his nerves."

However, in the Collins Guide to English Parish Churches that he wrote in 1958, John Betjeman made a note of St. Giles' Church, Langford and its unusual western apse. (He was knighted in 1969, clearly after his work on Langford!)

The Flood Walkway at Hoe Mill

This is what the walkway was built for – to ensure that people (and in this case their bicycles) can avoid the flood water in Hoe Mill. However, after a recent rather violent storm, a tree came down onto the walkway and smashed through the slabs. Hopefully this will be repaired very soon in case of further inclement weather.

The offending tree is shown below, which not only smashed up the walkway, but closed the road for quite some time until equipment could be brought in to saw it up and cart it all away to enable the road to be opened up again to traffic.

Planning Applications

May we point out that the Parish Council (PC) is a statutory consultee with no powers to accept or reject planning applications. However...

The Process

Maldon District Council (MDC) informs the clerk, via email, of planning applications within the parish boundary. In turn the clerk notifies councillors, who can then review planning applications via MDC's planning portal. (MDC no longer issues hard copies of plans to the PC; they may be viewed online or hard copies are available to view at MDC's offices, Princes Road, Maldon, CM9 5DL).

Where possible, taking into consideration the specified time frame, the clerk will include planning applications on the agenda of PC meetings. The agenda will include the reference number, the location of the proposed works and a brief summary of the scope of the application.

The clerk posts agendas on the PC's website and village noticeboards three clear days prior to each PC meeting. Parishioners and applicants are welcome to attend meetings and to comment or give additional information on the application if they wish to do so.

Councillors will consider the merits of the application and any representations made by the public before voting on a response to MDC. This may be to lodge no objections, or to recommend the application is modified or conditions are imposed or to record grounds for rejecting the application. On behalf of the PC, the clerk will submit comments to MDC following the meeting.

If a planning application is rejected and the applicant appeals, the PC is again consulted and the above process is reinstigated.

Making a comment on a planning application

Parishioners are encouraged to make comments directly to MDC. This is a fairly straightforward process:- it can be done by letter to Planning Services, Princes Road, Maldon, CM9 5DL, email (planning@maldon.gov.uk) or online via www.maldon.gov.uk Once you access the MDC website, click on Planning and Building Control, then click on "Search and comment on planning applications". Then select "planning application search facility". You can then enter the reference number if known, or the address. If you enter Langford or Ulting in the search bar you will see a list of the most recent applications. Click on the application you wish to view. To make a comment online you are required to register and sign in.

You are also welcome to raise any comments with the Parish Councillors:

Langford planning representatives: Councillors Irene Allen and Colin Ashby

Ulting planning representatives: Councillors Kathy Palmer and John Clemo

Local PCs are protesting against the removal of the 'Parish Trigger', so watch this space...

News from St. Giles' Church, Langford

As you know, St. Giles' has been without a priest for some considerable time now, so it is with the greatest pleasure that I can announce that the Rev. Asa Humphreys will be taking up the position of Priest in Charge of the United Benefice of Heybridge with Langford in September. He is currently Assistant Curate at St. Mark's, Talbot Wood in Dorset. Asa and his wife, Laura, have two small children – Abel and Simone – and it will be a pleasure to welcome them into our lovely church. We look forward to his ministry among us, and hope that this will be the beginning of a long and fruitful association.

He will be installed at St. Andrew's Church, Heybridge, at 7.30 p.m. on Wednesday 5th September, and you are cordially invited along to bid him welcome. Refreshments will, of course, be provided.

St. Giles' Church is open every day from 10 a.m. to midday when the 'Heavenly Supplies' shop is open, and everyone is welcome to come and have a cup of tea and a chat, or just sit quietly and contemplate the beautiful surroundings. We have walkers who regularly stop off at the church to take advantage of our amenities, and 'church hunters' who come to see our unique western apse!

We will be having a bit of a clear out of the old boiler house and the crypt, so don't be surprised or concerned if you see us coming and going over the next few weeks. I once nearly gave someone a heart attack (when the Mill House was an Old People's Home) when they saw me struggling out from under the grating to the crypt, covered with dust and cobwebs and dragging a black sack full of leaves and moss – I'm sure he thought they weren't all dead down there!

Our next 'event' will be a Bric-a-brac and plant sale on Saturday 9th June so we hope you will come and collect some bargains.

There will be a lot of events in St. Giles' Church later in the year so do look out for the information and come and join us in making the most of this beautiful building.

News from All Saints Church, Ulting

You may have noticed that it has been quite busy at All Saints over the past couple of months. In fact there have been not one, but two Bishops attending there within two weeks of each other.

On Monday 16th April, Bishop Roger of Colchester came to lead the service celebrating my licensing as Associate Priest for Hatfield Peverel with Ulting and Wickham Bishops with Little Braxted. As a result, the church was filled with parishioners from all four churches who raised the roof with some magnificent hymn singing. A marquee was set up where everyone could get together after the service and the Welfare Unit provided some excellent refreshments.

Speaking of the Welfare Unit, it received an official blessing from the Bishop Stephen of Chelmsford, on Sunday 29th April. For anyone not familiar with All Saints' new Welfare Unit, it is a portable cabin which contains a kitchen with toilet and washroom attached. It is brought down to the car park area on the first Sunday of the month and for special services so that the congregation can get together after the service for a chat with tea and coffee. Bishop Stephen then quoted a passage in the Bible (Deuteronomy 23: 12-13) which was relevant to a particular facility of the Unit which has been lacking in the rural surroundings of All Saints in the past. After the service he led the congregation outside to bless the Welfare Unit, commenting that it was the first time he had ever blessed a toilet facility! The bacon rolls provided from the Unit's kitchen were very well received, and the whole event was filmed by ITN Anglia and made the news bulletins on Monday.

All Saints proved a very popular attraction when it was open in conjunction with the Open Gardens Day at Ulting Wick on Sunday 22nd and Friday 27th April. The fantastic displays of tulips at The Wick brought out the visitors in their hundreds and most of them walked through to All Saints where a team was on hand to welcome them and explain the architecture and history of the church. During that week Rayleigh's University of the Third Age and a group of keen gardeners from Hutton also visited as part of their day at The Wick's impressive gardens.

All Saints is also now open on the second Sunday between 0900 and 1000 for prayer and provides a quiet place to reflect in peaceful surroundings. If you are attending a service and would like a particular hymn that is special to you or relevant for a particular day, please contact organist Barbara Mason on 01621 927066.

With loving prayers and blessings.
Revd. Derek
